TENNIS HONORS

FOR CONNIE DOYLE

C. B. Doyle, champion tennis player of the District of Columbia, yesterday won in the finals with Richard Hooker in the ternis tournament for the championship of the middle Atlantic states, which was from subscriptions from those golfers who played yesterday afternoon upon the courts of the Bachelors' Lawn Tennis Club.

At the beginning of the match the first set started the local enthusiasts who were present all agog with the idea that Dovie would never survive the fast work that Hooker was showing himself capable of doing. In his match of the day before with John C. Davidson champion of the south would never survive the fast work that John C. Conrad Doyle,

It was at the beginning of the second set that Doyle began his slashing game which has a serve that is well nigh bewildering and calculated to mix up the best tennis player. His accurate placing seemed to nettle Hooker and as the contest progressed it was plainly seen that Doyle would win, which he did by a score of 6.4. With each nettle Hooker and as the contest progressed it was plainly seen that Doyle would win, which he did by a score of 6-4. With each of the contestants having won a set both played the game of their lives in the third, but Hooker did not play the game that he had shown he was capable of going in the first set, and the District of Columbia champion won by 6-2. The fourth set was then called and it was seen that Doyle had struck his winning streak and that if former occasions were to be counted he would not be headed. This was true for at the end of the set Doyle had finished the winner of the set by the score of 6-2, the same as that in the third set.

NEW YORK, May 26 -- Walter J. Travis ceased to be a competitor for the metropolitan golf championsnip yesterday afternoon, when at the close of the semi-final round on the links of the St. Andrew's Golf Club near Chauncey, Westchester county, he was defeated by the Dyker Meadow golfer, E. M. Byers, lately of Pittsburg, and a member of the Yale golf team while he was a member of that university. Byers beat the ex-national champion by 2 up and 1 to play. The match was a well-contested one, and Byers won his triumph justly, for he played the 18-hole course in the low score of 73 strokes. Travis took 77. Honors were even on the ninth green. Byers then won the eleventh hole, Travis sending his ball into the brook, his only really bad hole. Byers retained his lead thereafter

The defeat of Travis was the only unexpected feature of the day. Jerome D. Travers went through both rounds, successfully beating Oswald Kirkby of Englewood in the morning by 4 up and 3 to play, and then defeating the Crescent A. C. player, J. M. Rhett, in the afternoon, by 5 up and 4 to play. The final round today for the metropolitan golf championship will be 36 holes. NELSON-HERRERA FIGHT FIZZLED OUT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 26.-At 10:47 o'clock last night (1:47 a.m. Washington time), after bitter wrangling which had continued ever since 6 o'clock in the evening, the fight between Battling Nelson and Aurella Herrera was formally declared off and boxbolders were told they wou'd have money refunded.

This culmination came after the men had been in the ring and both had departed. Herrera had been hissed off the stage and to his dressing room. Nelson and Manager son and hissed the Mexican.

Herrera's manager explained Herrera's refusal to weigh in by the statement that the Mexican had weighed in the afternoon and was down to weight, but that immediately thereafter he had partaken of a hearty meal of porkchops and other food. This called for hoots and jeers from the spectators whose sympathics were all with spectators whose sympathies were all with the Battler because of his manly stand.

the Battler because of his manly stand.

As the wranging progressed the scenes in the amphitheat r bordered on the riotous. It is perhaps well for the Mexican that he did not fight at any weight, for the crowd gained the impression that he was afraid to meet the Dane, who would in all likelihood have beaten him to insensibility in two or three rounds.

By his action last night the Mexican has lost all the support he has enjoyed on the coast. There have been suspicions for the last few days that he feared to meet Nelson. This was indicated in many ways, Heretofore he has shown deep contempt for ordinary training rules and drank baths, which heretofore have put him in condition on the day of the fight.

In his battle with Nelson he had everything to win and nothing to lose except a hazy claim to the championship. Ne'son is the real loser by the flasco last night. The fighters would have had almost $21,000 to divide between them at 60 and 40 per cent, Nelson also getting the customary championship bonus of $2 000. Herrera haggled all through the evening. His demand that the scales be removed from the ring was finally complied with. but even then he refused to weigh. He had agreed to come on if the scales were removed. Nelson sent word to him that he would take him on at any weight under 140, or at that figure. Herrera's manager offered to bet $1,000 that Herrera was under 135, but he was flooded with so many eager takers that he fled to the dressing room and the bluff fell flat

It is the belief that the Mexican and his backers discovered some fatal defect in his condition and deliberately stalled off the match on any and every pretext available. The big crowd accepted this theory and left the building in good order. Nelson's stock has risen to the top-notch because of his attitude, but the Mexican, if he ever gets a fight on the coast, will fight before a hostile house.

AMERICAN OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS BACK HOME

NEW YORK, May 26 .- The American athletes, bearing many trophies of their successes in the Olympic games at Athens, reached this port yesterday morning on the steamer Republic. They were welcomed down the bay by numerous craft, laden with welcoming friends and bands of music, and the trip of the Republic to her dock was a triumphal procession.

Almost the first one to leave the ship was James E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union of America, and the delegate from this country to the games. He had in his possession a message from the King of Greece to President Roosevelt. It read:

"The King of Greece sends kindlest greeting to President Roosevelt, and wishes him health and prosperity, and thanks him for the kindly interest he has shown in the Olympic games."
The Republic was detained at quarantine for a short while on account of a case of smallpox. Among the vessels that went down the bay with welcoming parties was the tug C. P. Raymond, on which were A. G. Spalding, Senator Frawley, Bartow S. Weeks, Robert Ferris, H. S. Quinn, William D. Brown and Julian W. Curtis, the treas-urer of the American committee. The iron McCarry then held a conference with Herrera and the announcement was made that the men would be in the ring inside of five minutes. Nelson was extremely anxious to go on with the mill, but the Maxican made it practically impossible.

The trouble arose over weight. The men were to weigh in at 131 pounds. Herrera positively refused to weigh in and after much wrangling Nelson offered to fight him if he weighed under 140. Herrera refused this proposition and the crowd cheered Nel.

At the signal for the start of the 'varsity race both crews were almost as one in catching the water. They started at a brisk pace, Harvard rowing 35 and Cornell 36. For the first few moments of the contest the shells were so perflously close to each other that Referee Bangs megaphoned the Cornell coxswain, who had the inside of the course, to sheer off slightly in order to avoid danger. At the quarter mile Cornell was in the lead and soon had pulled her shell one-quarter of a length ahead of Harvard. Shortly after this both crews reduced their stroke slightly until at the half mile Cor-nell pulled at 30 and Harvard at 32 At the mile stage Cornell, with her long and deliberate stroke, had made the lead one and one-quarter lengths over Harvard. MILITARY WILL REMAIN.

May Not Be Withdrawn From San Francisco Until July 1. Secretary Taft has instructed Major Gen.

Greeley, in command of the Pacific Division, to make arrangements to retain the military forces in charge of relief work in San Francisco until July 1, If such action be necessary. Gen. Greeley advised the War Depart ment about a week ago that he expected to withdraw all troops and turn the relief work over entirely to civilians on the 1st of June, but appeals from California members of Congress caused the War Department to order a retention of the military forces in the stricken city until July 1, in case the situation demanded it. As 92,000 persons were fed yesterday and the number of refugees still in need of assistance does not decrease as rapidl, as was hoped for, the relief work seems to the War Department to be a greater task than should be unloaded upon a civilian organi-zation until it is known to be capable of meeting the emergency.
